TO PETITION TO CHANGE BONDS

200 Business Men Have Signed Paper
Which Will be Presented to Commissioners.

ASKING FOR NEW BOND ISSUE

So as to Avoid One Year's Delay in Street Paving and to Save $23,000.

At three-thirty o'clock this afternoon eight business men with four papers had obtained approximately two hundred signatures in the business section of the city to a petition, which will be presented to the commissioners tomorrow afternoon, asking that a new bond issue be made for the improvement of Main and Second streets, the bonds to run from one to ten years and to draw five per cent interest. The issue has been made at four and one-half per cent, to run from one to twenty years and it has been found impossible to sell them.

The business men's action in the matter took definite shape last evening at the meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association, when a committee was appointed by President Cox to canvass the business men today to get their opinions on the subject. They have met with universal approval, practically all of the merchants in the city joining in the petition to ask the commissioners to change the bond issue so that the streets will not be delayed for a year.

The business men contend that it is purely a business proposition and for that reason they expect to lend their influence to have the change made. The fact that the present issue of bonds can not be sold until a year's interest has accumulated, will only delay the improvement for a year and the business men argue that is useless, since the bond issue can be changed and not only the streets can be built immediately, but $23,000 can be saved, as has been proven by figures. They believe that all of the benefits possible should be derived from the brick streets.

The controversy started Wednesday afternoon, when the county commissioners refused to grant an oral petition to change the bond issue. Since that time, the bond subject has been the principal topic of conversation on the streets and public sentiment has been almost entirely in favor of the change so as to avoid the delay.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN CALLED BY DEATH

Orlando Plummer, 71 Years Old, Succumbs to Tuberculosis at His Home in Jersey City.

WIDOW AND BROTHER SURVIVE

Orlando Plummer died at his home in Jersey City yesterday afternoon shortly after four o'clock of pulmonary tuberculosis after a lingering illness. He had been suffering with the disease for several months and had been confined to his bed for the past five weeks. Mr. Plummer was 76 years, 9 months and 26 days old. He was a member of the G. A. R. and a veteran of the Civil war. He is survived by a widow and one brother, Alexander, of Kentucky. The funeral services will be held at the home Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, conducted by the Rev. J. W. Turner. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

BRAVELY GIVES UP $500

Richmond Chief of Police Turns Over Allison Reward Money.

Smiling wanly, but brave to the last, Chief of Police I. A. Gorman turned over the $500 reward offered by the county commissioners for the capture of the murderer of Mrs. Allison, to the city controller, in accordance with the law, says the Richmond Paladium. "He seen his duty and he done it," although the chief hasn't allowed himself to think of what that five hundred would buy.

JUNE WAS A VERY COLD MONTH--NOT

Although it Seemed Hot the Weather Was Below Normal in Temperature and Precipitation.

LAST HALF WAS VERY WARM

The weather for June was below the normal in both temperature and precipitation. The first half of the month was very cold, the daily average being from 12 to 15 degrees below the normal. The last half was quite hot, being several degrees above that usually experienced. The mean temperature was 3.7 degrees below that of one year ago and 2 degrees below the average for the last twenty years. The rainfall for June was less than one-fifth the normal. In June there were 10 clear days, 17 partly cloudy and 3 cloudy days. Rain was observed on seven days, frost on two, fog on one and thunder was heard on four.

ESCAPES INJURY IN A RUNAWAY

Carl Douche of New Salem is Thrown From a Buggy But is Not Hurt.

HORSE FRIGHTENED AT HOGS

A runaway that might have resulted disastrously happened this morning about one mile south of New Salem, when the horse driven by Carl Douche of New Salem frightened at some hogs and ran away almost totally demolishing the buggy. The animal scared at some hogs in a field adjoining the road and started to run before Douche could gain control of it. He was thrown from the buggy, but escaped unhurt. The frightened horse dragged the buggy several feet when the shafts were torn loose, allowing the horse to go on. The top was also torn off and the buggy was badly scratched and scared. The horse ran about one and one-half miles before it was caught. Douche is a young unmarried man who lives in New Salem.

ANOTHER THREE MILE ROAD.

PRESSURE OF GAS IS TREMENDOUS

Rushville Gas Company Gets Strong Well on Hugo Farm, North-West of City.

IS ONLY SIX FEET IN TRENTON

The Pressure is so Strong That the Explosion For Shooting Can Not be Lowered.

One of the old time pressures has been found in a gas well which was drilled on the Charles Hugo farm, northwest of the city for the Rushville Natural Gas company. The well was drilled by Ed Atkins of Carthage. As a rule the gas wells of the present day are drilled in Trenton rock to the depth of twelve feet, but the pressure of this one was so great that it was only drilled to the depth of six feet in the rock.

It will register only the ordinary pressure of 300 pounds, but it does it in about two minutes, whereas in most wells it takes from twenty to sixty minutes to run up a 300 pound pressure. Pieces of coal and rock weighing as much as 800 grains were dropped in the hole, but each time they were thrown into the air by the tremendous force of the outrushing gas. Mr. Gregg, the superintendent of the company, states that a person would be perfectly safe in throwing silver dollars in the well, for they would be blown out. The well has been left open for the last 36 hours and there is no apparent decrease in its strength. Last night the pressure burst the tubing.

It was impossible to lower an explosion into the well so as to shoot it. The opinion is that the "hole" will furnish gas for at least five or six years in its present condition, and at the expiration of its usefulness in the present state, the company will have it drilled deeper into Trenton rock and will then shoot it. Members of the company say that excluding one or two others of their wells, that is worth more than all the rest put together.

With the exception of the freak well that the Peoples Gas company got at the depth of 550 feet on the Powers farm, a few months ago, this is the only well that has been considered worth connecting to the pipe line, without shooting it, since the early days of gas in this county. Mr. Atkins has moved his outfit to the Wm. Posey farm and will start work immediately on another well for the Rushville company.

PATENTS A PART FOR HIS OWN AUTO

John Schwartz Makes a Transmission Which He Has Found Practical For His Use.

DOES AWAY WITH 72 PARTS

The Schwartz merry-go-round has arrived for a few days stay in the city. The Schwartz advance guard is now traveling ahead of the main show in a Ford automobile. John Schwartz, the son, has patented a transmission for automobiles. It is being used on the Schwartz machine and has been found to be very practical. The transmission does away with seventy-two parts on the auto. They have not yet perfected the patent due to the fact that they started out so early this spring, but expect to finish it next winter.

BRYAN TO BE DRAWING CARD

Chautauqua Committee Expects the Noted Lecturer to Attract an Immense Audience.

OTHER GOOD PLATFORM MEN

Musical Companies For Assembly Are Far Above the Average.

That the Chautauqua this year will be better than it ever was is assured by a glance over the long list of brilliant and excellent talent. Probably the best attraction which the committee has been able to obtain is the lecture to be delivered by William Jennings Bryan on the afternoon of August 12. Although everyone may not agree with Mr. Bryan in politics, they will be compelled to agree that he is one of the greatest platform orators of the twentieth century.

But Mr. Bryan alone can not make up the chautauqua program and equally as interesting and possibly more so to some people, lectures and musical numbers have been contracted for. Among the best musical attractions offered this year is the Parland-Newhall company. They are a male quartet with many other stunts than singing in their long repertoire. The Fisher-Shipp concert company is another of the musical organizations which will appear here and is advertised as a high class company.

It is planned to make amateur night this year a much better and bigger feature than it has ever been made before. Friday night will be devoted exclusively to local talent and it is planned to give an entertainment that will surpass all previous attempts along that line. Many local organizations can be obtained who will render a program that will be well worth the hearing.

Numerous other platform men have been retained for this year's assembly, all of them with excellent reputations. One of the biggest drawing cards will be the lecture by Lincoln J. McConnell on Tuesday evening. It will be remembered that he made the biggest hit ever made before a Men's Big Meeting here last winter and local men are extremely anxious to have the opportunity of hearing him again.

Some new feature, not yet arranged, will be used in advertising this year's assembly. The "Flying Squadron" was first given life by the chautauqua committee and has proved to be very popular not only with other organizations in this city but also in other cities where it has been copied. The committee in charge of the advertising hoped to hit off on some new plan this year which will be unique and novel.

The contests for which prizes will be offered are more attractive than ever this year. An opportunity is afforded any resident of Rush county to win substantial prizes by a very small effort. The conditions surrounding the contests will be published in tomorrow's Daily Republican.

LETTER FROM ABROAD.

Rev. Wm. R. Jinnett, of Manila, who, with Mrs. Jinnett, is making an extensive trip in Europe, has kindly consented to write a few letters of travel for the benefit of the readers of the Republican. On page four today will found his first letter, dealing with the famous British Museum, the largest and most complete institution of the kind in the world.

FIRST HEARING TODAY

Judge Sparks Hears the Argument Injunction Suit.

The preliminary hearing of the injunction suit of Albert C. Kirkham versus Chester Rhoades, as trustee of Center township, was held before Judge Sparks today. The suit is to restrain Rhoades or his agents to enter upon Kirkham's land and fill what was once a public open ditch, but which was later changed to a tie ditch. The judge has not passed his decision as yet.

"BIG WEDNESDAY" COMES NEXT WEEK

Many Forms of Amusement Will be Offered to the Crowds on That Day.

WILD ANIMAL SHOW TO COME

The next regular "Big Wednesday" will be held on next Wednesday, July 13. The same plan will be carried out as on the previous bargain days. Free band concerts will be given all day and every patron of Rushville business houses on that day gain free admittance to all of the three matinee performances at the local theaters, and to Lambrigger's Wild Animal show, which carries 25 cages of animals. As has been the custom the merchants will offer big bargains to induce people in the surrounding country to trade in Rushville. Aside from that, Schwartz's merry-go-round will be in the city.

'DOG BUTTONS' ARE VERY COMMON NOW

Valuable Scotch Collie Belonging to James Foley, Died Yesterday After Being Poisoned.

ANOTHER WENT SAME ROUTE

The person or persons who are throwing the "dog buttons" promisciously about the city are having more or less success. A valuable Scotch Collie dog, belonging to James Foley, died yesterday afternoon as the result of being poisoned. The canine was found to be very sick about noon yesterday and a veterinarian was called immediately. His efforts were useless and the dog died after being in agony for a few hours. The canine was purchased from James Ball for a good sum only recently and will be remembered about the city as the dog which always ran ahead of James Foley when he was riding his motorcycle. A dog belonging to Clarence Cross was poisoned only a few days ago.

TO WORK AT SHELBYVILLE.

Shelbyville Republican: Frank Lindsay of Rushville landed in Shelbyville Thursday with a string of horses which he will work out at the fair ground track. It is generally understood that Shelbyville has the best half-mile track in the State and scores of horsemen are availing themselves of this fact preparatory to the county fair here and elsewhere.

TO FEED WHOLESALE MEN.

The wholesale merchants of Indianapolis, who are to visit in this city on Friday, July fifteenth, and who are about two hundred and fifty in number, will be entertained by the Windsor hotel company on the lower floor of the K. of P. building.

DISCUSS FACTORY FUND AT LENGTH

Opinion of the Merchants at Meeting Last Night That Some Step be Taken at Once.

"BIG WEDNESDAY" DISCUSSED

Business Men Urged to Come to Next Session Prepared to Accomplish Something.

Probably the most enthusiastic meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association in recent months, was the one held in the court house assembly room last night. About forty business men turned out and discussed the questions to come before the meeting. Probably the most notable thing accomplished was the appointment of a committee of ten business men by the chair to obtain signers to a petition to be presented to the county commissioners tomorrow asking that a new bond issue for the payment of the improving of Main and Second streets be made, the bonds to bear five per cent interest and to run from one to ten years. The present issue was made at four and one-half per cent to run from one to twenty years and could not be sold.

The question of a permanent factory fund was brought up again last night. William Wallace, proprietor of the Windsor, came to the meeting expressly to ask that something be done in that direction. He said that he was very much in favor of the plan and that he stood ready to do his part. He stated that he was willing at any time to make a satisfactory donation for such a fund if other business men would join in the enterprise.

A long discussion was held on the various phases of a factory fund and it was considered from various angles. Several very enthusiastic speeches were made, notably one by Anthony Schrichte. He waxed eloquent and said that the business men should come to the next meeting prepared to take some step in that direction. It was his opinion that the association should make some progress along that line.

The next "Big Wednesday" came up for its share of the discussion. Jet Parker, as chairman of the press committee, said that the business men were responding very liberally to the cause for the next big bargain day. He put the question directly to the meeting as to whether or not they wanted another "Big Wednesday." Every business man at the meeting said that he was heartily in favor of the bargain days continuing and pledged his support to the cause. The result of the meeting was that the members present urged that every business man join in an effort to make the next "Big Wednesday" better than any previous one.

The location of entertainment on the bargain day was a matter for some discussion. Some of the business men objected to the location of the band for concerts and other attractions which might be used. They believed that the place of holding concerts should be changed each time and that way the various business men would always reap benefits from it. The matter was referred to the entertainment committee. They promise to adjust it so that it will be satisfactory.

Lesson II.—Third Quarter, For July 10, 1910.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Comprehensive Quarterly Review—Golden Text, John vi, 63—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

At the close of the first quarter we took the Easter lesson instead of the review, so that we have had no review this year until now. We will give the lesson titles and Golden Texts of the second quarter and then endeavor to summarize the lessons of the year to date:

- 1.—"The Power of Faith," Matt. ix, 18-34; Golden Text, Mark ix, 23.
- 2.—"The Mission of the Twelve," Matt. ix, 35, to x, 15, 40-42; Golden Text, Matt. x, 8.
- 3.—"The Question of John the Baptist," Matt. xi, 1-19; Golden Text, John v, 36.
- 4.—"Warning and Invitation," Matt. xi, 20-30; Golden Text, Matt. xi, 28.
- 5.—"Two Sabbath Incidents," Matt. xii, 1-14; Golden Text, Matt. xii, 7.
- 6.—"Temperance Lesson," Prov. xxiii, 29-35; Golden Text, Prov. xxiii, 32.
- 7.—"Growing Hatred to Jesus," Matt. xii, 22-42; Golden Text, Matt. xii, 30.
- 8.—"Death of John the Baptist," Matt. xiv, 1-12; Golden Text, Prov. xvi, 32.
- 9.—"The Multitudes Fed," Matt. xiv, 13-21; xv, 29-39; Golden Text, John vi, 35.
- 10.—"Jesus Walks on the Sea," Matt. xiv, 22-36; Golden Text, Matt. xiv, 33.
- 11.—"The Canaanitish Woman," Matt. xv, 21-28; Golden Text, Matt. xv, 28.
- 12.—"Parable of the Sower," Matt. xiii, 1-9, 18-23; Golden Text, Jas. i, 21.
- 13.—"Parable of the Tares," Matt. xiii, 24-30, 36-43; Golden Text, Matt. xiii, 43.

Third Quarter, No. 1.—"Pictures of the Kingdom," Matt. xiii, 31-33, 44-52; Golden Text, Rom. xiv, 17.

A simple outline of the book thus far would be according to chapters: i—The genealogy and birth of the King; ii—The visit of the wise men and the flight into Egypt; iii—Testimony of John the Baptist and of God the Father at the baptism; iv—The King and the devil, the King's call to repentance and His call to the first disciples; v—The laws of the kingdom; vii and ix—The King's credentials; x—The mission of the twelve; xi—The King's rejection by the people; xii—The King's rejection by the rulers and His estimation of them; xiii—The seven parables covering the present age, or the mystery of the kingdom; xiv—John beheaded, 5,000 fed, Jesus walking on the sea; xv—Necessity of heart worship, the great faith of a woman, 4,000 fed.

The Old Testament is full of testimony concerning a kingdom of peace and righteousness for all nations with Israel as the center and an immortal man as King on the throne of David, as literally a kingdom on this earth as were Babylon, Medo-Persia, Greece and Rome, the kingdoms of this world having become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ (Rev. xi, 15). Great violence has been done to the plain teaching of Scripture by asserting that there is no future for Israel as a nation, that the church is now the true Israel, that the kingdom of God is within us and that Christ will not have a kingdom on this earth. In reply to these four false and unscriptural assertions see Jer. xxxiii. Note that He said God's kingdom is among you or in the midst of you (not within you), for He was speaking to unbelievers who were ready to kill Him (Luke xvii, 20, 21, margin), and, as to His saying "My kingdom is not of this world" (John xviii, 36), see in the same verse His explanation in the words, "My kingdom is not from hence." Believers are born from above and are not of the world, but they are in the world, so His kingdom will be on the earth, but not by earthly power. It will come from heaven with Him when He comes in His glory. As believers we are joint heirs with Him of this kingdom, kings and priests unto God, and we shall reign on the earth (Rom. viii, 16, 17; Rev. v, 9, 10). That we may walk worthy of His kingdom and glory let us understand the promises to David and Abraham, believing fully the supernatural birth of the Messiah (Matt. i, 1, 20-23). Let us worship Him as did the wise men and be as obedient as Joseph and Mary (Matt. ii, 11, 13-15). Let us continually give all honor to Him whom the Father and the Spirit so honored (Matt. iii, 16, 17). Let us overcome the devil by the word of God, as Jesus did, and become His faithful followers (Matt. iv, 4, 7, 10, 20, 22). Being heirs of such a kingdom, let us manifest the spirit of it and make the hastening of it our first business always (Matt. v, 16; vi, 33). Being of good cheer because of sins forgiven, let us be filled with the Spirit and go about doing good as He did (Matt. ix, 2, 22; Acts x, 38).

As His witnesses we must depend upon the Spirit always and fear nothing, not even death (Matt. x, 20, 28-30). Wholly submitted to God, we may know and make it manifest that His yoke is easy and His burden light (Matt. xi, 25-30). Having become to Him as brother, sister, mother, our hearts may be so full of Him that out of the abundance of peace and joy which He will give us we shall always speak His praises (Matt. xii, 34).

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning July 10, 1910.

Topic.—The model Christian Endeavor society.—1 Cor. xii, 4-27. Edited by Rev. Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

The word "model" here does not mean "a small imitation of the real thing," but the real thing itself. It is the ideal society, the one that may be held up as a pattern to other societies as worthy of their imitation and emulation. Such societies may be few and far between, but the model Endeavorer will always be filled with aspirations to make his society a model and ideal one.

In any religious organization the supreme factor is spirituality. No Christian Endeavor society can be a model society without deep spirituality. Many may attend and all be willing to take part, the committees may meet regularly every month and plan their work and bring in written reports, the socials may be crowded and create great enthusiasm, yet unless back of all this and in it all is the Spirit of God it is not a model Christian Endeavor society or any other kind of Christian society. It is simply intelligent young people following mechanical forms laid out for a Christian Endeavor society. The Spirit of God must therefore be manifest in all the devotions, work and fellowship of an ideal Christian Endeavor society. The talents used must be Spirit given talents. Then the model society will begin.

Possessed of the Spirit, each member in harmony with all others should make the best use of the gifts bestowed upon him by the Spirit. "There are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit." We have different talents, but all are Spirit given, and we should use them whether possessed in a low or a high degree. There are various duties in the model society. Some are able to do the more important ones and others the less, but all must be done to make the society a model. The smallest wheel in a machine if broken will destroy its entire usefulness. Every part is important regardless of the place it occupies. Paul uses here the illustration of the human body: "The body is not one member, but many. If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand I am not of the body, is it therefore not of the body? And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye I am not of the body, is it not therefore of the body?" The point of this illustration as continued by the apostle is readily seen and the moral emphasized. Every member of the human body—foot, hand, ear, eye, etc.—has its place and duty, whether of great or little importance, and each one must fill the place and perform this duty if the human body is to be perfect and perfectly perform its duty. The same principle applies to Christian Endeavor. Each member must do his duty in his special sphere if the model society is to be attained. Our Scriptural verse that should have been read if not read detracts that much from a prayer meeting and makes it fall by that much below a model, as if organizer or leader failed in his duties. When each one takes his part and does his work under the direction of the Holy Spirit, then, and then only, is the ideal attained.

BIBLE READINGS.

Neh. iv, 6; Zech. iv, 5-10; Ex. xix, 3-8; Acts iv, 23-32; vi, 1-7; x, 30-43; Matt. xi, 42; Matt. xxv, 1-13; Acts xiii, 1-5; Rev. ii, 10.

The Model Endeavorer's Model.

No one can be a model Endeavorer without a model. If you think it is possible just try it a little while and you will be convinced of the contrary. Our model can be only one—not Dr. Clark, though he founded the society; not your pastor, though he stands at the head of your church; not the wisest and noblest and most learned and holy man or woman we know. The only possible model for a human being is not a human being, cannot be, because human beings are full of faults and sins. It is the God-man Jesus Christ. That is one reason why God came down into our human life to give us a perfect model for it. That is why we are told to seek perfection after the example of His perfectness.—Amos R. Wells.

Christian Endeavor and Temperance.

I am very glad that the Christian Endeavor society has taken up the work of urging total abstinence. There is no doubt that the organized effort that the society will put forth will result in securing hundreds of thousands, if not millions, of signers, and that means a very perceptible decrease in the total amount of liquor consumed and a very considerable increase in the strength of the temperance sentiment of the country. One cannot do much to encourage total abstinence so long as he drinks himself. The moment he becomes enlisted under the banner of total abstinence his influence becomes a factor in the spread of temperance.—William Jennings Bryan.

In Faraway India.

Charles W. Fairbanks, former vice president of the United States, who was expected at the world's Christian Endeavor convention in Agra, India, until the last, was unavoidably detained a few hundred miles from the convention when on his way to Agra. However, he kindly telegraphed the substance of his address in a message of 751 words. This was received with great applause, and after it was read by Dr. Clark the American contingent, some fifty in all, rose and sang "America." Then the British, not to be outdone, sang "God Save the King!" and all joined in "Blessed Be the Tie" at the close.

ROOSEVELT WILL HELP BEVERIDGE

The Colonel Promises to Come Over Into Indiana.

HE WILL STUMP THE STATE

Following the Call of Senator Beveridge and a Couple of Representative Hoosiers at Sagamore Hill, Roosevelt Let It Be Known That He Would Come to Indiana in the Fall to Speak in Behalf of Beveridge.

Oyster Bay, July 8.—There was a new twist given to the senatorial contests that are going to take place in various parts of the country when Colonel Roosevelt announced that he will go on the stump for Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana. He said that William Dudley Foulke and Lucius B. Swift of Indiana, who are close personal and political friends, had come to ask him to go to Indiana to speak for Senator Beveridge, and he had consented.

The mere fact that the colonel has endorsed Beveridge, an insurgent who did not break with President Taft during the last session of congress, is not taken here to be particularly significant, for Roosevelt and Mr. Beveridge have been warm friends for a good many years. The ex-president left no doubt in the minds of his inquirer in regard to the contest that Beveridge is engaged in, as he did concerning Representative Poindexter. He made the announcement positively.

The "grand young man" who ascended Sagamore Hill yesterday afternoon returned to the station with the same happy smile that other visitors have worn on similar occasions. He absolutely refused to tell what later Mr. Roosevelt himself let the cat out of the bag. The colonel passed no comment, though, further than to remark that he will go out to Indiana next fall to speak in behalf of Senator Beveridge.

Beveridge has always been very close in his political relations with Colonel Roosevelt. Of late he has leaned toward the progressive movement that created some stir in congress during the past year or two. The Indiana senator came out flat-footed against the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill and voted against it all the time. He was active in the passage of the statehood bill, but slipped up on his attempt to get through congress the Alaskan government bill. In the last session of the national legislature, however, Senator Beveridge helped the president pass the railroad bill and worked in harmony with Mr. Taft. He is said to enjoy the friendship of the president. He is running, however, on an anti-tariff and insurgent platform. The state situation out in Indiana is in such precarious condition for the Republicans and especially Beveridge himself, that any support that the colonel offers should prove mighty helpful to Beveridge.

Colonel Roosevelt is apparently unable to keep out of national politics, even though he says he desires to for the time being. At the end of his trip to Boston last week, on which he was the guest of Senator Lodge, the colonel promised to go down east and aid Lodge in his struggle against Representative Butler Ames of Massachusetts. If he keeps all of these dates he will be a busy Mr. Roosevelt, when you take the state scrap in New York this fall into consideration.

There were other guests at Sagamore Hill. Senator Thomas H. Carter of Montana came for a few hours.

The western politician did not put much stock in the insurgent movement, so far as the west is concerned. He said that out there you don't hear the talk of a split in the Republican party that you do in these parts. His constituents, and he is mighty thick with Senator Aldrich, are pretty well satisfied with the tariff as a whole, and while folks in the east regard the wool schedule as a crime, they consider it wholly satisfactory because they raise the sheep. Before he went away Mr. Carter remarked that he's a candidate for re-election to the senate and that Roosevelt spoke of his fine work on the postal savings bank bill recently.

Mrs. Henry Mulsaw, goaded to desperation by the alleged brutality and unfaithfulness of her husband, a Chicago streetcar conductor, shot and fatally wounded the latter and their three-year-old daughter, and then killed herself.

GOING TO LOOK INTO INCREASE OF RATES

Indiana and Neighboring States Take Formal Action.

Indianapolis, July 8.—After a conference attended by members of the Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and Indiana railroad commissioners, it was determined to present a petition to the interstate commerce commission asking it to use its power to cause the railroads of the country which carry on interstate freight traffic in the states named, to postpone the taking effect of new class and commodity rates until the states can have time to go into the new rate sheets thoroughly and determine whether or not the railroads are justified in demanding the increases scheduled. The new rates are proposed to be effective Aug. 1 in virtually all the states of the Union and mean increases on virtually all classes of commodities. It was found by figures submitted in the meeting that the increase in Ohio is approximately 16 per cent, that in Michigan 18 per cent and that in Indiana 20 per cent. The per cent of increase in Illinois was not given, since the classification in that state differs from that in the other three represented in the conference.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the indelicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures.

"Favorite Prescription" is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice.

Some of the numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of KNOWN COMPOSITION. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 31 one-cent stamps for cloth-bound copy.

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge, by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

NOTICE

For the Improvement of Highway on Line Between Posey and Ripley Townships, Rush County, Indiana.

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in my office for the grading, draining and macadamizing, or paving with broken stone of a certain highway on line between Ripley and Posey Townships, Rush County, Indiana, which petition is in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

State of Indiana,
Rush County, ss:
Before Board of Commissioners of Rush County, Indiana.

We, the undersigned, freeholders and voters of Ripley Township and Posey Township, in the county of Rush and State of Indiana, at least ten of who reside in said Ripley Township, and at least ten of whom reside in said Posey Township, respectfully pray the Board of Commissioners of the county of Rush, State of Indiana, that the following described highway already established be improved to a width of thirty (30) feet by grading, draining and macadamizing, or paving with broken stone, to-wit:

Commencing in an east and west public highway where the west line of Center Township, Rush County, Indiana, intersects said highway at the southeast corner of section thirty-three (33), township fifteen (15) north, range nine (9) east, and running thence in a westerly direction on the line dividing Posey Township from Ripley Township, in said county, to a point about twenty-six (26) rods east of the southwest corner of section thirty-one (31), township fifteen (15) north, range nine (9) east, at which point said highway joins to the south, which point shall be the terminus of said improvement of said established highway.

And the undersigned petitioners further pray that said Board shall lay out, establish and construct, and cause to be graded, drained and macadamized or paved with broken stone, a highway described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at a point in the east and west public highway on the line dividing the townships of Posey and Ripley in Rush County, Indiana, which point is about twenty-six (26) rods east of the southwest corner of section thirty-one (31), township fifteen (15) north, range nine (9) east and running thence west on the line dividing said Posey and Ripley Townships, a distance of about twenty-six (26) rods to the Carthage and Arlington free gravel road, which point shall be the western terminus of said highway. And the undersigned pray that said proposed highway be established 30 feet in width, the said dividing line of said townships to be the center of the highway.

Said highway above proposed, to be established, and said highway above proposed to be improved to form one continuous highway on said line dividing said townships and together they will be less than three miles in length and will connect a free gravel road at one terminus with the boundary line of a township at the other terminus. Said highway, the improvement of which is herein above prayed, is traversed by a United States rural mail route for more than two miles thereof.

Said proposed new highway will affect the following named land owners, to-wit: Harvey J. Catt and Ellen Winseott and Alice Newforth.

No part of said highway herein sought to be established and no part of said highway herein sought to be improved is in any city or incorporated town and neither of said townships of Posey and Ripley contains any city or incorporated town with a population of 30,000 inhabitants.

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in my office for the grading, draining and paving with gravel of certain highway in Posey Township, Rush County, Indiana, which petition is in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

State of Indiana,
Rush County, ss:
In Commissioners' Court,
July Term, 1910.

The undersigned petitioners would respectfully show to the Honorable Board of County Commissioners, of Rush County, State of Indiana, that they are resident freeholders and voters of Posey Township, in Rush County, State of Indiana. That said Posey Township in said county and State does not contain an incorporated town or city of more than 30,000 inhabitants. That the following described highway in said Posey Township is already established, beginning at a point on the west line of said Posey Township, where the public highway intersects the west line of said Posey Township in section fifteen (15), township fourteen (14) north, range eight (8) east, which highway is known as the Indianapolis State Road, thence southeast over and along said highway to a point where said highway intersects the line dividing the southeast quarter and the southwest quarter of section twenty-four (24), township fourteen (14) north, range eight (8) east. They further say that all of said highway is now and for many years has been used by the public as a highway. They further say that said highway is less than three (3) miles in length and connects at its east terminus with an improved free gravel road, and that the west terminus of said highway is at the west boundary of said Posey Township.

Your petitioners hereby ask and petition your Honorable Body that said above described highway be improved by grading, draining and paving with gravel through its entire length and to the width of twenty feet.

HOME ENDORSEMENT

Hundreds of Rushville Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Rushville, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Rushville reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

W. H. Hudson, 1015 North Harrison street, Rushville, Ind., says: "I hold a very high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills, although I have never used them myself. About six years ago when living in Vernon, Ky., a member of my family was annoyed by pains across the small of the back and other symptoms of kidney complaint. At that time I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply. They acted just as represented and in a short time their use brought entire relief. I have unlimited faith in the curative powers of Doan's Kidney Pills and do not hesitate to give them my endorsement."

Mrs. Carry Nation has dropped the hatchet and resorted to argument. After so many years of armed conflict it is late to declare that the tongue is mightier than the tomahawk.

Champ Clark told a Tammany gathering that the Republicans are scared, but dangerous. Forty years' experience in the minority has made Champ a little doubtful about frightening the enemy.

It is not worth while for the local city authorities to bother themselves with the question of whether to exclude the fight pictures in Rushville or not. The use of the films will be too expensive for the local picture houses to run them.

Some of the newspapers of New York State are preaching a crusade in favor of the redemption of the run-down farms of that State. They say there is riches in them yet, if they are properly tilled with the intensive methods employed in European countries. They are right at the door of the greatest market of the country. All of which is of interest to the farmers of Indiana. Our farms have not yet reached the "run down" condition, and the thing to do is to keep them from reaching that undesirable state. On the other hand, we, too, are right at the door of a great market, and in this respect the New Yorkers have nothing on us. With the fertility of the valley in addition to the proximity of the markets, there is no reason why the wealth to be gleaned in the future from the farms shall not be many fold all the accomplishments of the past.

The postal authorities at Chicago have created consternation among the members of the gentle sex, who have been carrying on romances through the general delivery. Under elegant names from the latest, best seller novel, the girls have been in surreptitious correspondence with alleged millionaires and noblemen. Under the new rule they will have to identify themselves before mail will be delivered. The new rule makes it quite impossible for Maggie Smith to get letters addressed to Beatrice St. Clair Montmorency. Uncle Sam may lose a little postal revenue, but much virtue may be saved.

EDITORIALETTES.

It is very probable that this agitation about the prize fight pictures will all blow over before any of the pictures ever reach Rushville.

The garbage question is causing much discussion in New Castle but it never raised much of a stink here.

It was pretty hot today. It will probably get hotter. But it will never get hot enough to say "Some hot, believe me."

Due to the tariff, the return of T. R. or the high cost of living, cigarettes will come eight instead of ten in a box in the future—if that is of any interest to you.

The brick streets will come eventually and why not have them right away and get the use of them next winter, when under ordinary circumstances Main street is almost impassable?

An then, there's that little item of $23,000. It would make spending money for a week or two.

In writing a society item a reporter on a Marion paper says, "punch was served ever and anon." This is new dope but it might be taken to mean that there was not much time between drinks.

Brick streets or no brick streets, that is NOT the question. It is this year or next year.

Mixing drinks a little, as it were, Jeffries found that after laying out of the ring for six years, he could not come back. So what chance is there of Bill Bryan and the Democratic party ever re-arriving.

No, gentle questioner, for the first time in several years, we did not have a clean-up day.

AMUSEMENTS

The Lambrigger Wild Animal show comes to Rushville Monday, July 11, for one week. Miss Tony is a little Chimpanzee Lady from Equatorial Africa and Master Joe is an Orang Outang gentleman from the Island of Borneo. These two little animal wonders, proclaimed by Darwin, the great naturalist, as the connecting or missing link between man and the animal kingdom, are two society favorites and will hold their first reception in Rushville Monday, July 11, at 7:00 p. m.

Another great feature is a Royal Rainbow Python, the sacred snake of India, found in the rice fields, where thousands of the natives are destroyed by these monsters annually. His highness is 27 feet in length and weighs 280 pounds. He is the largest reptile ever exhibited in this country.

A few other features are the sacred hog from the river Nile, the jaguar from South America, the giant porcupine from the west coast of Africa, and 25 large cages of wild animals, beautiful and large reptiles from every corner of the globe. Scientific lectures are given by Mr. Lambrigger, the noted naturalist every hour, which are educational, instructive and entertaining to both young and old.

The Palace theater will have a great Vitagraph picture tonight, entitled "Minotaur." It is a subject which deals of Grecian mythology. The Minotaur was a precious being half bull and half man, confined in a labyrinth in the island of Crete. The hand of the king's daughter could only be obtained by the one who would enter the labyrinth and kill the monster. Miss Brown will sing "When the Ivy Climbs 'Round the Old Oak Tree."

The Vaudet management will offer a strong program tonight in the film, "Dooley Referees the Big Fight." It is a Bison comedy subject full of real fun and humor. It is said to be one of the best comedies ever produced and affords endless amusement. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Star Grand offers a strong western drama tonight, "Apache Gold," another story, strong, tense, virile and away from all other Indian pictures. The suspense is sustained to the very end. Superb scenery and spirited action; a story you cannot help getting interested in is all recorded in the best of photography. A new illustrated song, "The Star of Love is Burning" will be sung.

Tell some deserving Rheumatic sufferer, that there is yet one simple way to certain relief. Get Dr. Shoop's book on Rheumatism and a free trial test. This book will make it entirely clear how Rheumatic pains are quickly killed by Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy—liquid or tablets. Send no money. The test is free. Surprise some disheartened sufferer by first getting for him the book from Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Sold by Frank E. Wolcott.

Interesting Observations Made in British Museum

William R. Jinnett, of Manilla, Writes of His Travels Abroad and Relates Many Novel and Unique Experiences

The British museum is the principal attraction from the standpoint of gaining knowledge in the great city of London. It is easy of access from all the omnibus lines, car lines, and subways and is in fact the center of London's great hotel and lodging house. John Ruskin tells us that the British museum is the best ordered, the most pleasant and the grandest concentration of the means of human knowledge of any institution in the world.

It arose from small beginnings and has been developed during a period of many centuries, having been founded by Hans Sloan and opened first to the public in 1759. It has been enriched both by private gifts and grants from the government. The building is in the Greek style of the Ionic school. The sculptures above the "west" portico represent men emerging from the average state under the influence of religion; the "east," the defusion of arts. The contents of the Museum are so vast that it is impossible to acquire even a superficial knowledge of them except by many visits. We can only give to your readers a general idea of what the institution contains and call attention to those things of first importance.

We will take your readers through the entire building: Wedeposited our umbrellas and wraps in the vestibule of the reading-room and made our way into the entrance hall where are located statues of benefactors of the institution. There is a room called the Room of Inscriptions containing Latin and Greek inscriptions and some specimens of Greek and Roman sculpture, among them, a fine figure of the Emperor Hadrian. We then entered the reading-room took a look at the miles of books, glanced upward at the dome the largest in the world and paused in the marble room. It might be remarked, in passing, that the library contains forty-three miles of shelving and two million volumes. Here may be seen Roman antiquities discovered in the British Isles; portraits of Roman emperors arranged in chronological order. They begin with Julius Caesar and end with Severus. We noted as we passed along the bust of Homer, the greatest poet of Greece.

In the next room stands the lovely Townley Venus, which, with the rest of the Townley collection, was purchased for $100,000.00. On the right is a very beautiful head of Apollo supposed to be under the influence of music. We now ascended the staircase and entered the room of Archaic Greek sculpture. The works in this room belong to the sixth century B. C. The attempt of those old artists to depict human faces was a failure, but their imitation of the forms of animals were more successful; some of them almost perfect. Along the length of the room, on either side, are seated figures hewn out of large blocks of stone, brought from the sacred way leading to the temple of Apollo at Brachidae, near Miletus.

We now passed into the Greek ante-room which contained one of the most beautiful and celebrated works in the Museum—the seated Dementer, found by Sir C. Newton at Cnidos. In the figure are combined the sorrows of a mother with the dignity of a goddess. We now entered the Ephesus room which contain the remains of the temple of Diana of Ephesus which was built in the time of Alexander the Great and was one of the most splendid buildings in the world at that time. The New Testament refers to this temple in the following language: "This Paul hath persuaded and turned away many people, saying that there be no gods which are made with hands; so that the temple of the great goddess Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshipped. And when they heard these sayings they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, 'Great is Diana of the Ephesians!'" The peculiar feature of this temple, set up and preserved by Christian hands, is its sculptured columns, some remains of which are shown on the opposite side of the room.

Passing into the Elgin-room we behold some of the greatest treasure of the Museum, namely, original marbles from the Parthenon at Athens. They are the work of Phidias in the fifth century B. C. The collection cost $175,000.00. Many parts of the ruined temple as well as the statues are here shown and we are positive that they are all original. There is a recumbent statue personifying one of the river gods of Attica, celebrated for the perfection of its anatomy.

In the next room called the Phigaleian room, is the collection from the temple of Apollo in Arcadia. There is a collection of Greek tombstones in this room most remarkable for their lack of suggestion of despair and extravagance. The dead are represented in some simple attitude of domestic life or love. In one is seen a lady in the act of putting on a bracelet; in another, a dying mother commits her child to the care of a servant. They seem to speak to us in the tender words of Tennyson:

"No longer caring to embalm
In dying songs a dead regret,
But like a statue solid set,
And moulded in colossal calm."

Another form of Greek tombstone, surrounded by a vase of exquisite beauty and grace, impresses the beholder with far more reverence than such ornaments do on modern tombstones. About the center of the room is a statue of a mourning woman of the fourth century B. C.

We now passed into the room known as the Mausoleum room, where is seen the remains of the famous tomb of Mausolus, at Halicarnassos, which was one of the wonders of the ancient world, and from which the world mausoleum is derived. The structure compares favorably with a description of Mausolus who said of himself, "I was a tall, handsome man and formidable in war." The frieze of the walls illustrates a battle between Greeks and Amazons. Some remains of color are also seen.

Passing out of this room we entered the room called Nereid room. In this room are shown the sculptures discovered in Lycia by Sir C. Fellows. The statues of the Nereids, from which the monument takes its name, rest on Marine creatures, typifying the scenes over which the Nereids are supposed to be moving.

Passing hurriedly through the Assyrian galleries, we entered the Egyptian galleries. Here is a collection which covers a period of about four thousand years from B. C. 3600 to A. D. 350. They are arranged in chronological order. This is the most ancient collection in the entire building. We noticed a black granite figure of the goddess Pasht; the head of a colossal statue, Thodnes the third, discovered at Carnack, and who, it is said erected Cleopatra's needle, now standing in London; another obelisk which stands in the Place de la Concorde, Paris; and the one which stands in Central Park, New York City. We next noticed monuments of the time of Ramses II. This period has been described as the Augustan age of Egypt, when the arts attained their highest degree of perfection. It is Ramses II. who has been identified as the Pharaoh who oppressed the children of Israel, and for whom they built the "treasure cities, Pithom and Ramses." The birth of Moses is dated in this reign. If so, Moses was adopted by the king's daughter, and may have beheld some of the very effigies now placed in this saloon. In the southern gallery we saw wooden figures of kings; limestone seated figures; gigantic beetles, which were regarded as emblems of life by the Egyptians; statues representing the myth of Osiris and in the center of the room, the famous Rossetta stone. This stone was discovered by the French in 1796 near the mouth of the Nile river. It is the key to the translation of many hieroglyphs which before its discovery could not be translated. We now entered what is known as the Assyrian Transcript. Here are monuments and relics of Ninivah and Babylon, familiar to all readers of the history of the Old Testament. We noted especially those monuments from the palace of Sargon, B. C. 725. The two colossal human-headed bulls are placed, as they originally stood, at the entrance of a hall in the palace. On the west side are colossal winged lions, similarly found in the palace of Ashur-nasir-pal, king of Assyria, B. C. 885-860, at Nimroud, the ancient Calah. Notice that the animals have five legs, so that they should appear perfect both from the front and side. Layard's account of his first discovery of these colossal figures (a sight of which may have suggested to Ezekiel his vision of the cherubim) is very interesting: "I used to contemplate for hours these mysterious emblems, and to muse over their real end and history. What more noble forms could have ushered the people into the temple of their gods? What more sublime images could have borrowed from nature by men who sought, unaided by the light of revealed religion, to embody their conception of the wisdom, power and ubiquity of a Supreme Being? They could find no better type of intellect and knowledge, then the head of a man; of ubiquity, than the wings of a bird; of strength then the body of a lion. These winged human-headed lions had for twenty-five centuries been hidden from the eye of man, and they now stood forth once more in their ancient majesty."

On the right is the Nimroud gallery. Here are a number of slabs which, as we looked at them, recalled the passage in Ezekiel where he describes "me of sculptured workmanship upon the wall, likenesses of the Chaladeans, portrayed with vermilion; girded with girdles on their loins, with coloured flowing head-dresses upon their heads, with the aspect of princes, all of them; the likeness of the sons of Babel-Chaladea, the land of their nativity." I noticed here the picture of an army crossing a river on a pontoon bridge supported by the skins of animals filled with air. Another object of interest was the sacred tree of life from which the idea of the tree of life mentioned in the book of Genesis is derived. There is a series of hunting scenes very complete in detail and of the finest workmanship, especially the rendering of horses and lions. The most interesting scene is that of Ashur-Bani-Pal and his queen at a banquet under a vine, with a head of Te-ummon, the conquered king of Elam on a tree to the left.

In the Nineveh gallery, in the center of the room in a glass case, are many manuscripts in cuneiform characters, among them being the Babylonian and Assyrian accounts of the creation and flood.

Having traversed the lower part of the building, we ascended the stairway to the second floor. Here is a collection of mummies and mummy cases, figures, jars and other objects connected with funeral rites. Besides mummies there were sacred animals, objects of domestic use and personal adornment. An object of special interest was the writing material composed of a reed pen, plaited stalks of the papyrus plant and a collection of toys, dolls and doll houses, about three thousand five hundred years old. There is a seal of Darius with the inscription, "I am Darius, the Great King."

Passing hurriedly through the Assyrian and Egyptian rooms, we entered the gallery of religion. To the student of Christian evidences this is a most interesting and instructive part of the institution. The room is crowded with antiquities and illustrations of various religions. Here is depicted the story of man's effort to find God and God's methods of revealing himself to man. There is an inscription from the Moabite Stone which gives an account of a war between Mesha and Ahab and other kings of Israel. There is also a cast of the inscription at the pool of Siloam, describing the method of feeding the pool with water.

There are three rooms devoted to the illustration of Eastern religions. One room is devoted to Buddhism. There are a great many figures of Buddha, who lived about 550 years before the birth of Christ. He was a prince who turned religious teacher, and now has more followers than any other religious teacher in the world, Christ himself not excepted. Room IV is devoted to Hindoo mythology. The various shades of this belief are here illustrated most carefully, and along with them the religion of Judaism, Islamism, Shintoism, Confucianism and other religions of the Orient.

The next room is devoted to Christianity. Here may be seen ruins of the ancient catacombs of Rome, Icons of the Greek church, ancient church utensils and similar objects. Notice in the early Christian cases, a silver casket which belonged to a Roman bride named Projecta, who lived about A. D. 500. The reliefs chased on the sides of the casket illustrate Venus seated on a shell, Tritons, Amorini, etc. Also Projecta being led to the palace of the bridegroom, whose name is Secundus. The inscription on the lid reads "May you live in Christ, Secundus and Projecta."

We next visited the department which contains Greek and Roman antiquities. Thousands of beautiful vases are here seen of all styles, sizes and material. It was a custom among the Greeks to use vases at funerals and many were buried in the tombs. Those who won prizes at the Olympic games had these prizes, which were usually vases of some description, buried with them when they died. From these tombs thus enriched were taken the vases which are here shown.

There is a Bronze room containing a fine collection of Greek and Roman bronzes. In the Etruscan room, containing memorials of a once famous nation, may be seen a glass case containing a large collection of surgical instruments, used by the Greeks and Romans, which bears testimony to the advanced science of surgery which they very well understood. In many instances the instruments are the same as those used by the physicians at the present time. Another case shows education, toys and games. The methods of teaching and the means of recreation in those times were very much the same as today. One object of interest is the case which represents slavery. There is a scourge, a pair of iron fetters, and the slave's badge. The badge was hung around the slave's neck as a warrant for his arrest. On the badge is the following inscription, "Keep me, do not let me run away, bring me back to my master, Vinivus on the estate of Callistus."

We then passed to the department of coins and medals. There is a collection of 250,000 specimens. We gained admission to this department as a special favor. The coins represent the period from 700 B. C. to the present time. There are some old Jewish coins containing representations of the pot of mauna and Aaron's rod.

There is a room devoted to precious gems and gold ornaments. It is said to be the richest collection in the world. Here may be seen the gold cup of the kings of France and England, the finest specimen of translucent enamel in existence. It was made for Charles the Wise of France, who was born in 1337 on St. Agnes day (hence the subjects of the designs are taken from the life of that saint). It remained in the possession of the French kings till it passed into that of the English king, Henry VI. In 1604 it was given by James I to the Spanish ambassador, who in turn presented it to a nunery at Burgos. The abbess sold it a few years since to a French collector. Among the ornaments are finger rings of all nations and of all times. There are many things of great historical interest; the signet ring of Mary, Queen of Scots; a gold enameled prayer book of Queen Elizabeth; Gibbons' gold snuff box and watch; Napoleon's snuff boxes; the ring of King Ethelwulf, the father of Alfred the Great.

There are other rooms containing terra-cottas, pre-historic relics of Great Britain and kindred articles. But we did not have the time to inspect them closely. The Anglo-Roman collection was very interesting from the fact that it contained a fine bust of the Emperor Hadrian, who visited the country 120 A. D.

We spent some time in the Ethnographical department. Here is the most extensive collection of objects illustrating the habits of dress, warfare, handicraft, religion, etc., of the less civilized peoples of the world. We then visited the American room which contains the more ancient remains of pre-historic times of this continent. The last room we visited was the room of books and manuscripts. This is a place of great interest to the profound scholar, but of not much interest to the mere visitor. There is an incomplete manuscript of the Scriptures, dating from the third century. The manuscripts here shown cover a period of twenty-five hundred years. There are many autographs of famous men, kings, princes, warriors and statesmen as well as the world's greatest writers. On leaving the room we found ourselves again at the main entrance and our visit to this wonderful institution was ended.

YOU WOULDN'T THINK FROM THE SMILE

of the woman who markets here that the "High Cost of Living" bothered her. It doesn't. What Our Neighbors Are Talking About MOTORCYCLE SKIDDED.

(Greensburg Democrat.)

Monday morning Walter Adams, the St. Paul baker, and his wife started to Indianapolis on a motorcycle to spend the Fourth with friends, and when near the city limits in making a turn on the wet paved street the machine skidded, throwing them to the ground and Mr. Adams received a laceration of the calf of one leg, which necessitated medical attention. Mrs. Adams was more fortunate and escaped injury. Both have returned to their home and Mr. Adams resumed his duties at the oven, but limps considerably and registers no complaint as he is glad it was no worse.

USING "DOG BUTTONS."

(Greensburg Democrat.)

The distributor of "dog buttons" at St. Paul is still busy in that city and thus far this week has two more canines added to the list. Merril Copeland, the blacksmith's bird dog was the first to succumb from the deadly drug and next came the pet of Louis, son of Postmaster John L. Jackson and wife. The party handling the poison is certainly an artist in the line, as the stuff is quick and sure in its work.

HAVE A FREAK DUCK.

(Greensburg News.)

For months past, Milroy, a little town in the edge of Rush county, has had the eyes of the State centered upon it by producing freaks and monstrosities. First a comet egg was discovered by an enterprising citizen in that locality, who with more than ordinary ingenuity realized the fact, that while Halley's famous sky wanderer was aviating in this part of the world, such a discovery meant much favorable advertising. More comet eggs followed in line, then came the famous triplets and four-eared hogs, etc. Other cities in this and neighboring counties, with the exception of Rush, were becoming jealous of all the notoriety Milroy was receiving.

Now comes a Decatur county man, a resident of Adams, who exhibits, and with no little pride, a twelve days old duck that has three legs.

The little duck was raised on the place of C. A. Markland, and with the exception of its extra appendage, to all appearance is just the same as any other little fellow of his class, who has not long been out of the egg.

The superfluous and freakish leg is connected to the left leg and is fully developed. It can only be distinguished from the fact that on it there are four toes with corresponding webs instead of the usual three. The little fellow is a healthy, noisy chap, is a true artist in the water and bids fair to live to a ripe old age unless something takes a turn for the worse in his career, or his future expected plumpness might cause him to be led to the slaughter block. Mr. Markland is proud of his little freak and believes that he has sustained the reputation of the county.

BUYS RAZOR BACKS.

(Columbus Herald.)

Arthur May has received a car load of 154 head of razor back hogs, lariat in the wilds of Arkansas, which are brought here for experimental purposes. They have been turned loose on Mr. May's farm, which will be patrolled by a cordon of men until the hogs get acclimated. The hogs have arched backs and snouts with which they can drink out of jugs. Most of them were caught with dogs and it was with great difficulty that they were induced to enter a car. Mr. May is going to see what can be done in the way of feeding them to a butcher's finish, and if there is money in it he will make another trip for more razor backs.

HAS UNCANNY EXPERIENCE.

(Greenfield Reporter.)

F. A. Senechal, the photographer, and his assistant, had a mystifying experience Wednesday evening at a home in this city where Mr. Senechal was called to photograph a corpse. The following story is related by the photographer and substantiated by his assistant and three other persons who were in the room at the time.

The body to be photographed was resting in a coffin in a bank of flowers. The shades had been drawn and the light focused on the dead. The stillness of death prevailed everywhere and intensified by the preparations of the photographer. When all was ready and the photographer's head enveloped in the camera cloth a startling interruption occurred. The camera began to rise, the tripod elevating itself six inches from the floor without collapsing and slowly returning to its position. Again an effort was made and the tripod performed the same amazing performance. This time when it returned to the floor Mr. Senechal was alone with the corpse and was about all in himself. His assistant and the ladies lost no time in leaving the room when the second manifestation occurred. The photographer induced his assistant to return and the camera was held in position until a negative was produced.

Mr. Senechal makes no effort to explain the incident. He says all he knows is that it occurred just as described. A negative was secured while the camera was moving and this he exhibits as absolute proof of the story.

Feet So Sore Couldn't Walk Down Stairs— TIZ Cured Her Quick.

If you have sore feet, tired feet, smelly feet, lame feet, tender feet, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville. TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes." No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

The storm had burst unexpectedly. Bulmer came to dinner, ate and drank and smoked in quiet amity until David's laboring muse conveyed his niece's latest "kind love and good wishes," and then—

"Tell you what," said Dickey, "there's another five thousand due tomorrow on the surveyor's report."

"There is," said Verity, knowing that his guest and prospective partner alluded to the new steamer in course of construction on the Clyde.

"Well, it won't be paid. You are lyin' about Iris. You've been lyin' ever since she disappeared from Bootle. Show me 'er letters and their envelopes, and I'll find the money. But of course you can't. They don't exist."

Then David set down the untasted wine and told the truth. Not all—that was not to be dreamed of. In the depths of his heart he feared Bulmer. The old man's reputation for honesty was widespread. He would fling his dearest friend into prison for such a swindle as that arranged between Coke and the shipowner.

Dickey rose from the table. His movements showed his age that night. "I'll think it over, David," he said. "There's more in this than meets the eye."

So here was Verity with no shred of hope in his mind that his one time crony would raise a finger to save him from bankruptcy.

The office boy announced a visitor, evidently not the terrible Bulmer, since he said:

"Gentleman to see yer, sir."

"Oo is it?" growled the shipowner.

"Gentleman from the newspaper."

A quiet mannered young man appeared.

"May I ask if you have received any private news of the Andromeda?" he began.

David creaked round in his chair.

"Is she lost?" said he in a strangely subdued tone.

"I fear she is. But there is much more than an ordinary shipwreck at issue. Several telegrams of the gravest import have reached us this morning. Perhaps before I ask you any questions you ought to read them. They are in type already, and I have brought you the proofs. Here is the first."

AN EASY AND HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR.

Who does not know of the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, put up an ideal preparation of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. It is sold by all leading druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the manufacturers upon receipt of price.

CONSERVATION GIVEN A BOOST

President Withdraws Millions of Acres of Public Land.

ACTING UNDER THE NEW LAW

Following Withdrawal a Few Days Ago of More Than Eight Million Acres of Public Land, President Has Just Affirmed the Withdrawal of 35,073,164 Acres Additional Under Provisions of Act He Worked So Hard to Secure.

Beverly, Mass., July 8.—President Taft has announced that under the recent act of congress providing for the president's validation of withdrawals of public lands, he has affirmed the withdrawal of 35,073,164 acres of coal land in Washington, Arizona, Utah, Colorado and North and South Dakota. Of this total 20,688,469 acres, comprising the withdrawals in North and South Dakota, had not previously been authorized and are now. The remainder, 14,374,695 acres, were withdrawn under the previous administration, but were considered as doubtful title. The act of the president merely makes the withdrawals before legal, and will stop any question being raised in the future.

This is the second time within a few days that the president has made use of the new validation act. It was this law which he urged so consistently on congress at the last session and which he regards as the vanguard of his conservation bills. Under validations announced previously the president confirmed withdrawals of phosphate, petroleum and power site lands amounting to practically 8,500,000 acres. The land just taken from the public domain by executive order was indorsed for withdrawal by the geological survey.

BARRED FROM CITIZENSHIP

Final Papers Denied in Cases of Violators of Saloon Laws.

Springfield, Ill., July 8.—Holding that a saloon keeper who violates the state law by selling liquor on Sunday is an undesirable citizen, Federal Judge Humphreys refused to issue final citizenship papers to Thomas Mulroy of this city, who admitted that he had violated the Sunday closing law.

For the same reason Judge Humphreys refused to issue final papers to John Knash, a Russian living at River-ton, who had been arrested and convicted for selling liquor illegally.

RECORDS BROKEN

Heaviest Customs Receipts in History of the Government.

Washington, July 8.—Treasury receipts from customs sources in the fiscal year 1910 ending on June 30 last, broke all previous records. The new tariff law was in operation during ten months of the year. Under this act customs receipts for the year footed up to $333,043,800. This is more than $33,000,000 in excess of the custom receipts for the preceding year.

The federal grand jury investigation of the meat packers will be reopened at Chicago next week.

If Sick

Don't risk even one single penny!

And I will tell you why I say this.
It is because every package of Dr. Shoop's medicine is absolutely free if it fails.

No one need risk even one single penny.

Just think what this means to the suffering sick!

No risk, no expense, nothing whatever unless health first returns. For 30 full days, and without the risk of a single penny, you can use either of my two famous remedies—Dr. Shoop's Restorative or Dr. Shoop's Pneumatic Remedy.

Then why take any chance whatever?

Why purchase any medicine whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

And besides, I am not making a profit.

My "No Profit" plan has made Dr.
Shoop's Restorative the most popular of every drug store in the land. The doctor who said, "We take no chance whatever here."

For twenty years Dr. Shoop's medicines have become thoroughly standardized all over America.

And I have consulted honest and responsible doctors in every city and village everywhere to act as my agents and sell my medicines.

These selected doctors are placing my medicines with the sick—and the entire risk is mine alone.

But write me first for an order.

I have an agent in almost every community—but all druggists are not authorized to grant the 30 day test.

So drop me a line, please—and thus save all disappointments and delays.

Besides, you are free to consult me by letter as you would your home physician. Do so freely and fully—if you desire. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost. Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan.

Besides, the books will open up new and helpful ideas to you. They tell of my 30 years experience at the bedside in homes and in hospitals. All phases of nervousness and relief are told of here. They tell of a "hidden" "inside nerve" no larger than a silken thread that gives to the heart its impulse. How the stomach and kidney each have their inside or power nerve. How these organs surely falter when these controlling or master nerves begin to fail. How Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing nerves and rebuilds, and brings back the lost tone and power. I can surely help you—if it is within the power of medicine to do so. My best effort is surely worth your simple request. So write now, while it is fresh in my mind, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

PROF. IRA REMSEN

Decries Sunday Newspaper as a Waste of Good Wood Pulp.

London, July 8.—President Ira Remsen of Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, addressing a conference of the Society of Chemical Industry at Glasgow, made a violent attack on American Sunday newspapers. The onslaught arose from Prof. Remsen's indignation at the rapid and ruthless destruction of forests in the United States for the making of wood pulp.

MR. TAFT'S VACATION INCLUDES SEA TRIP

The President Will Cruise On the Mayflower.

Beverly, Mass., July 8.—President Taft is going to spend part of his vacation on shipboard. Unofficial announcement has been made at the executive office that the president would make a ten day trip up the Maine coast. The voyage is going to begin July 18, three days after the absolute vacation which Mr. Taft is now enjoying, comes to an end. The presidential yacht, the Mayflower, will become the summer capital for that period. According to the plans already made, Mrs. Taft, Miss Helen and Charlie, Secretary Norton and Mrs. Norton, Captain A. W. Butt and possibly H. D. Taft, the president's brother, will be taken along. The Mayflower will set out for Bar Harbor, but a stop may be made at Biddeford Pool, Me., to pick up Mrs. Louise Moore of Cincinnati, sister of Mrs. Taft, who is summering there. It is expected that the president will stay at Bar Harbor for at least three days. He probably will remain aboard the Mayflower at night, but will explore Mt. Desert island by day. A circle around that island on the yacht is in the plan now being perfected. Mr. Taft is not especially fond of the sea, but it is thought that the trip will add the finishing touch to his real vacation and besides, Mrs. Taft is understood to be anxious to make the voyage. When the president gets back after that trip he will dig into the accumulated business and perhaps take a squint through the White House binoculars at the political horizon.

SWINDLED OLD POET

It Was Just Like Taking Candy From a Baby.

New York, July 8.—The dear, familiar stunt, whereby one seemingly and all so suddenly wins a prize and has to show he's got enough money to have paid in case he lost was employed to swindle Nicholas Jacobs, the gentle old eighty-two-year-old poet of Brooklyn, out of $5,000 in cash. Only this time the game has new trimmings. The lottery man was an "agent for the Carnegie thrift fund," and Mr. Jacobs had to show his $5,000 as a proof of thrift richly meriting a $10,000 prize. Of course the box of prize money, including his own savings, entrusted to him to hold, turned out to be filled with waste paper. The swindlers are at large.

EFFECTUAL PRAYER

Women's Petition for Rain Was Speedily Answered.

Aurora, Ill., July 8.—Fifty women gathered at the home of Mrs. Charles Kirchner and prayed for three hours for rain. A few hours later the first shower in thirty-three days fell. The rainstorm only settled the dust, however, and Mrs. Kirchner and her neighbors have asked all of the women in the city to join with them in their prayers.

Drowned in Sight of Fiancee.

Goshen, Ind., July 8.—Roy Debow, aged nineteen, son of John H. Debow, a wealthy farmer, east of here, was drowned while bathing at Lake Wawasee. He rowed out in a boat with his fiancée, Miss Gladys Johnson of Napanee, jumped into the water and was seized with cramps.

Woman Caught by Train.

Mattoon, Ill., July 8.—Mrs. Susan Sage, aged forty, was instantly killed here by an Illinois Central train. Mrs. Sage has three daughters.

THE EDUCATORS HONOR A WOMAN

Mrs. Young President of National Education Association.

COMMITTEE WAS OVERRULED

Teachers' Convention Would Not Stand For Recommendation of Nominating Committee Naming a Mere Man For Head of Association, and Elected Woman Superintendent of Chicago Schools by Big Majority.

Boston, July 8.—A battle, hot but bloodless, was fought in the Old South church, where the ancients have often gathered to be preached to, and resulted in the election of Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of the public schools of Chicago, as president of the National Education association. She received a total of 607 votes, against 376 cast for Zachariah X. Snyder of Greeley, Col., who was the choice of the nominating committee, and when the result was announced the meeting made the election unanimous and the participants in the encounter parted friends. James Y. Joyner, the retiring president, was elected first vice president. P. W. Springer of Michigan was made the treasurer; Mrs. Julie Richmond second vice president.

Charles S. Foos, superintendent of schools at Reading, Pa., and manager of the Snyder campaign, who was elected vice president from his state, in an interview asserted that the Chicago delegation spent $5,000 to help Mrs. Young's candidacy. He said part of the money was used to increase the active membership, 300 women favorable to Mrs. Young being rushed through the registration in a few hours, and that the annual meeting was practically packed by them. San Francisco was selected for the next convention.

TRACTION WAR NEAR

Invasion of McGowan Territory by McKinley Threatened.

Indianapolis, July 8.—A big traction fight is near in Indiana. The contestants will be the McGowan interests now in control of most of the lines in central Indiana, and the McKinley syndicate, which holds the traction lines of southern Illinois and is reaching out to get a hold on Indiana lines. The entering wedge of the McKinley men is hoped for through the purchase of the Ben Hur Traction company's holdings here. The road probably will be sold at receiver's sale within a short time.

A BIG CONTRACT

Indiana Printers Get Job of Printing Million Roosevelt Books.

Hammond, Ind., July 8.—W. B. Conkey & Co., publishers, have been awarded the contract here for the printing of 1,000,000 copies of "Roosevelt in Africa" by Scribner & Sons, New York. It is claimed this is the biggest single order ever given.

Man Slain by Policeman.

Mount Vernon, Ill., July 8.—Ed Atterbury was shot and killed while resisting arrest at the hands of Patrolman John Jones. The bullet went through Atterbury's body and entered the arm of Jim Bryant, who was standing near, breaking the bones in his arm. Atterbury was unmarried and was twenty-nine years old. The killing took place at Orchardville, near this city.

Didn't Come to Trial.

Chicago, July 8.—The Blue Island Rolling Mills and Car company, formerly the Blue Island Car and Equipment company, one of the five corporations charged with defrauding the Illinois Central railroad out of over $1,500,000 in connection with repairing freight cars, has settled out of court by the payment of a sum variously stated to be between $400,000 and $500,000.

Driven Insane by Heat.

Hammond, Ind., July 8.—The man whose body was found hanging from a tree on a Porter county farm has been identified as that of Christopher Dahms of Lansing, an employee of the W. B. Conkey company of Hammond. Dahms was overcome by the heat ten days ago while at work, and wandered away. The coroner's verdict was suicide while affected by heat.

Drowned in Water Tank.

Brownstown, Ind., July 8.—Frank Park, aged fifty-five, who has had charge of the Chesapeake & Ohio water tank at Medora, was found dead, his body floating in three feet of water. It is thought he was seized with an attack of heart trouble, with which he was afflicted, and fell into the water while standing at its edge.

Foul Play Suspected.

Princeton, Ind., July 8.—Not a clue has been found to solve the mystery of the disappearance of Mrs. Sam Hugg, wife of a farmer living six miles west of here, who has been gone from her home since June 21. A son who has been searching for her believes she has taken her life or met with foul play.

ILLINOIS MINERS HOPELESSLY "OUT"

Further Attempt to Adjust Long Strike Failed.

Chicago, July 8.—There is no prospect of early peace in the Illinois coal strike. A two days' conference of miners and operators adjourned without reaching a basis of settlement. And, moreover, Indiana miners threaten to strike as a result of the failure of the joint wage scale committee in that state to arrive at an agreement.

The conference on the Illinois strike was held in the rooms of the Illinois Coal Operators' association. All questions in dispute were taken up by a committee of three operators and three miners, with President Thomas L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America in attendance. It was at the request of President Lewis that the conference was held as a final effort in bringing about a settlement.

The miners, however, decided to stand pat on their original demands, including the demand that the operators pay the wages of shifters and increases of 3 cents a ton extra in Williamson and Franklin counties, and 2 cents a ton extra in the "long wall" mines in the northern part of the state. About 50,000 miners are on strike.

This Will Probably Be Disposition of Case Against Col. Watterson's Son.

Kingston, N. Y., July 8.—Ewing Watterson, son of Colonel Henry Watterson, the Louisville editor, was arraigned before Police Justice Rowe at Saugerties on a charge of assault in the first degree. Through his counsel the prisoner waived examination to appear before the grand jury. Indications are there will be no opposition to having him declared insane and committed to the Matteawan state hospital. Michael J. Martin, whom Ewing Watterson shot in the former's saloon without cause on July 1, is recovering from his three wounds.

Train Kills an Aged Woman.

Lewistown, Ill., July 8.—Mrs. William Thalath was thrown under a train at Ipava and died from her injuries at the Canton hospital, where she had been taken for treatment. She was sixty years old and was slow about getting off the train, which was in motion before she jumped.

Natchez Puts Ban On.

Natchez, Miss., July 8.—The board of aldermen adopted a resolution prohibiting the presentation of the fight pictures in Natchez.

CIRCUS IS OF A NATIONAL SCOPE

Shows of Twentieth Century Must Live up to and Even Excel Former Ones.

HAS A PLACE OF ITS OWN

Hagenbeck - Wallace Presents All That Can be Seen and Then Some More, Too.

National rivalry is keen in the claim for the origin of certain classes of entertainment. Every civilized country has its national hymn, its national game and its national holidays. America has more, for here is found a national entertainment—the circus. Webster says a circus is an enclosed place for games or feats of horsemanship. This definition may have served for the circus of the last generation, but for the circus of the present day a much more comprehensive and broader description is necessary and for this reason. The circus has not fallen behind the procession in the onward march of progress, and the former definition is about as applicable now as would be the definition of a stage coach in the description of a steam locomotive.

The circus of the twentieth century must be positively the best entertainment that money can command. It must be an entertainment so diversified that it can be enjoyed by all—the man, the woman and the child. It must contain a vein of humor to make you laugh; a vein of excitement to cause the blood to flow a little faster; a sensation of danger to thrill the system, and above all, it must be a clean, wholesome show that compels the attention and admiration and at the same time excites the emotion of every individual spectator.

What, then, should be said of a circus that is all this and still combines a world-famed trained animal show, an European novelty exhibition and Oriental exposition features, such as the Hagenbeck-Wallace Shows possess, which exhibits here Monday, July 18? There remains but one title, "A moving city of enchantment," to describe and define these great shows, which are so multi-featured that there must be some one thing to please the most exacting or cynical, and many features and exhibits that are bound to be generally pleasing and satisfying.

As a free prelude to these marvelous gigantic shows which exemplify the colossal genius of American financial and executive ability in itinerant amusement enterprise, a crowning glory of pageantry splendors will be seen in the mile-long gala and pompous procession of the parade on the morning of the glad-some holiday approaching.

ANOTHER SALOON CLOSED ITS DOORS

Thirst Parlor Belonging to Charles E. Merrick in Cambridge City is Now Matter of History.

FAST JOINING "DRY" COLUMN

Another saloon in Cambridge City closed last night and the place is rapidly going "dry." Last night at eleven o'clock the saloon of Charles E. Merrick closed its doors. Merrick will retain the room and engage in other business.

This makes four saloons that have closed in the past few months, one by death of the proprietor and the other three by expiration of their licenses, being those of Charles Williams, Charles D. Morgan and Charles E. Merrick. The Shew saloon was closed by the death of the owner.

There are still three saloons in Cambridge, but that of Luther Young will close next week. Bob Wharton continues in business until next February and the Crockett saloon remains until next April.

SOCIETY NEWS

Mrs. H. H. Pierce and daughter, Mrs. John Beale of Rushville entertained with a delightful company on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Pierce on Broadway in honor of her son's bride, Mrs. Charles F. Pierce, who was married a short time ago, says the Indianapolis Star. A reception was given in the morning and at 1 o'clock the hostesses entertained the assisting friends at luncheon, followed by a game of bridge in the afternoon. The rooms were beautifully decorated with great quantities of marguerites arranged in an artistic manner. The hostesses were assisted in extending the hospitalities by a group of friends including Mrs. A. E. Bradshaw and daughter, Miss Bradshaw, Mrs. Charles Tuttle, Mrs. Curtis Dixon, Mrs. Shideler and the Misses Susan G. Pursell, Mary Kelsey Stone, Mary Reynolds, Florence Scherrer and Mrs. Beale and daughter, Miss Daisy of Rushville.
